CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDY AND SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES AT NAGOYA UNIVERSITY, JAPAN FOR THE 2027 ACADEMIC YEAR

1. Call for Applications

The Ministry of Education, Science and Technology wishes to inform eligible Tanzanian citizens of undergraduate study and scholarship opportunities offered under the Global 30 (G30) International Programmes at Nagoya University, Japan for the 2027 academic year. The programmes are taught entirely in English. Eligible applicants may also apply for the competitive G30 Undergraduate Scholarship, subject to meeting the University's admission and scholarship selection requirements.

2. Eligibility criteria

Applicants must meet the following requirements:

i) Be citizens of the United Republic of Tanzania;
ii) Possess the academic qualifications required for admission into their preferred programmes of study;
iii) Have completed, or expect to complete, a 12-year school curriculum by 30 September 2027;
iv) Demonstrate proficiency in the English language in accordance with the University's admission requirements. Applicants who have completed at least three consecutive years of secondary education, including the final year, with English as the main language of instruction may qualify for an exemption from submitting English-language proficiency test results, subject to the University's approval. Such applicants may be required to provide an official statement from their school;
v) Applicants with alternative academic qualifications may also be considered, subject to the University's admission requirements; and
vi) Meet any additional admission requirements specified by Nagoya University for their respective programmes of study.

3. Available Programmes

The following undergraduate programmes are available under the Global 30 (G30) International Programmes:

| S/N | Programme | Relevant Schools / Disciplines |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | Automotive Engineering | Mechanical Engineering; Electrical, Electronic and Information Engineering – School of Engineering |
| 2 | Physics | School of Science |
| 3 | Chemistry | School of Science; School of Engineering |
| 4 | Biological Science | School of Science (Biology); School of Agricultural Sciences (Applied Bioscience) |

| 6 | Japan-in-Asia Cultural Studies (JACS) | School of Humanities |

Applicants are advised to review the specific academic requirements and programme descriptions on Nagoya University's official website before submitting their applications.

4. Scholarship coverage

i) Successful applicants awarded the competitive G30 Undergraduate Scholarship will receive the following benefits:
   a) Full tuition fee coverage for four years;
   b) An annual stipend of Japanese Yen (JPY) 500,000; and
   c) Reimbursement of the registration fee after enrolment. Scholarship recipients are required to pay the registration fee initially.

ii) Scholarship selection is based on academic merit, extracurricular achievements, other relevant accomplishments and demonstrated financial need.

iii) Applicants should note that admission to Nagoya University does not automatically guarantee a scholarship award.

iv) Scholarship decisions are made separately through the University's competitive selection process.

5. Application Procedure

Interested and eligible applicants are required to:

i) Review the admission requirements and application guidelines for their preferred programmes through Nagoya University's official Global 30 website;

ii) Complete and submit their applications through the University's official online application system, accessible at: https://admissions.g30.nagoya-u.ac.jp/apply-here/

iii) Applicants wishing to be considered for the G30 Undergraduate Scholarship must submit the prescribed scholarship application form together with an income statement from their parent or financial sponsor as part of their admission application; and
iv) Ensure that all required supporting documents are submitted within the prescribed application deadlines.

6. Application deadlines

i) Applications must be submitted in accordance with the following deadlines:

| Application round | Deadline | Tanzania time |
|---|---|---|
| First round | 19 November 2026 | 6:00 a.m. |
| Second round | 21 January 2027 | 6:00 a.m. |

ii) The application deadlines correspond to 12:00 noon Japan Standard Time (JST). Applicants should note that the second application round is available only for selected programmes. They are therefore advised to confirm whether their preferred programmes are open for applications during the second round.

7. Important Information

i) Detailed information on scholarship eligibility, benefits, application forms and other requirements is available through Nagoya University's official website: https://admissions.g30.nagoya-u.ac.jp/studentlife/scholarships/
ii) All admission and scholarship decisions are made solely by Nagoya University. Applicants are advised to consult the University's official website for complete admission requirements, application procedures and the latest updates.
iii) The Ministry of Education, Science and Technology encourages all eligible Tanzanian citizens to take advantage of these opportunities and submit their applications before the respective deadlines.
